The Saint Story in all its detail can not be found in any book or volume of books. For it is the story of the gay, the frivolous, the fun-loving, the serious, the energetic, and the sports-loving youth. It is the story of the hundreds of Sammy and Sally Saints who enter the portals of Santa Ana Senior High School, prepare themselves to take their places in an everchanging world, make their contributions, meager or great, and add another chapter to the history of this great school.

So let's turn the pages and follow through this year's activities of Sammy and Sally Saint at Santa Ana Senior High School.

DEAR BETTY —

Administration

Administration

MR. LYNN H. CRAWFORD

Superintendent of Schools

The Superintendent of Santa Ana Schools, Mr. Lynn H. Crawford, has the tremendous job of helping with the supervision of all schools in Santa Ana. His administration is trying always to better our city's schools by providing the best teachers and the best facilities possible. It is through his support and interest in school activities that Santa Ana High School carries on. Mr. Crawford, a former principal of our own Santa Ana High, has held this top education position for four years. Through his capable administration, Santa Ana schools have progressed to their greatest peak.

MR. ROBERT S. FARRAR

Principal

Mr. Robert S. Farrar, the Principal of Santa Ana High School, has the huge responsibility of coordinating and supervising the entire school program. His is the work of executing the business matters and generally overseeing the administration of Saintland. Much of Mr. Farrar's time is spent in giving personal counsel to students and assisting in their present problems and plans for the future. In his four years as principal, Mr. Farrar has endeared himself to both the faculty members and the many students through his personal interest and concern for their welfare.

Faculty

Members of the faculty deserve much credit for the herculean task that has been theirs. They have been concerned not only with the presentation of subject matter, but with guiding attitudes and acceptance of social responsibility.

Through the interest and understanding of their teachers, students have been helped to select the field of study which promises most for them in college and the years that follow. Faculty encouragement and advice has often helped the student in making group adjustments and developing personalities.

Years from now, as we put to use the things they so patiently taught us, we shall thank them even more than we do now. Without their skill in helping us to realize our ambitions, we might have failed to attain the goals best suited to our individual abilities.

Many of the faculty have made lasting impressions that will remain with us long after other high school memories now held dear have faded into the past.

Student Government

Student Administration

Presidents

Charles Burke David Christ

Student administration at Santa Ana High School is divided into three groups: the Board of Control, the Self Government Committee, and the Student Relations Committee.

The Board of Control is made up of student body officers. Besides president, vice president, and secretary, these officers include commissioners of finance, publicity, student relations, boys' athletics, and girls' athletics.

Heading student administration the first semester was President Charles Burke. Under his direction the Board of Control sponsored the annual sale of Student Body Tickets and Color Day.

For the second semester, David Christ was elected as Student Body President. During this term everyone enjoyed the Student Body Picnic, with its gay student-faculty activities.

The Self Government Committee and the Student Relations Committee work together to maintain school order. Alan Pierson was Commissioner of Student Relations the first semester, and Stanley Hunt was, the second. The Self Government Committee handles cases referred to it by the latter group. Self-Government Chairmen were Jack Porter and Edward Russell.

Girls' League

To start off a highly active year the Girls' League sponsored a garden tea and fashion show to acquaint the new sophomore girls with the upper classmen. Also featured in this year's activities were a Football Dance following the Anaheim game and two assemblies exclusively for the girls of the campus. Another program enjoyed by the feminine half of the school was a vocational guidance conference designed to assist the girls in picking their future careers.

The huge Christmas tree which spread the Yule spirit through the foyer the week preceding Christmas was also provided by the League. Throughout the week, Christmas recordings were played during the noon hour. The League's program was closed with the annual Co-ed Dance; here Sammy Saint enjoyed an evening of glorified entertainment with his best girl paying all the bills.

Much of this year's success is due to the capable guidance of the Girls' League advisers, Miss Helen Kirkland, Mrs. Mabel O'Buch and Mrs. Virginia Fielding, and to the leadership of Presidents Betty Jo Hunter and Jolane Loughton.

Dear Betty -

Hi sugar - Well, I see we made it this year - finally - not only graduation, I mean getting back other to sign the others Ariel - We never did get that done! (last year!) Golly, how time does fly - such is life. - We've really had some swell times together, eh? Remember Cecilene? That's where you found Don - gee, and to think you two are now engaged and about to get hitched! Sigh! It sure doesn't seem possible! - Also, remember all the slumber parties you came to at my house, and the Anaheim boys; and the permanents, and Herb, Jil, Scotty, Harold and best of all Harvey!! Boy, I've sure got my fingers crossed that he doesn't go overseas - however, such is life!

Well, Betty, I really can't think of much more to say 'cept that I've truely enjoyed our friendship and sincerely hope it continues throughout the years following - The best of everything always, to a really super, sincere gal - Behave, give my regards to Don and My best to you both!

Dearest Betty Jeanne,

Well - after three years together we're finally graduating! I'm happy and sad about it. We've surely had loads of fun - remember our sophomore year - practically all our class together - what fun clothing - Spanish (geometry) - dear dear Gythall - oh well, life's not all roses and happiness - We've had lots of talks - about men and stuff (mostly men) - and I cried (almost) on your shoulder over that bum Heuschel - oh well, everything worked out for the best. I was so happy when you got majorette - just wish you could have been one this year too. You were really great and cute - remember the Halloween Parade over at Anaheim? Getting chased from the sign board. Mean old man Honest Honey - I didn't mean to wreck you the day of the Student Body Picnic. (I still don't think we came in second in that one race!) It's so swell about you and Don - I know you'll be extremely happy! Just wish I could know him. This year has been fun - walking out to P.E. together - passing notes in Civics - Hmmm. Just about everything has been fun - all the games (we won and lost). You've been one of the swellest friends I've ever had - lots of luck in the future to you and Don.

Broadway,
Barbara

Dear Mother and Dad
Love you

P.S. Lots of things are better left unsaid — be sure to get in touch with me this summer! INVITE ME TO YOUR WEDDING! (please?)

Departments of Instruction

Art

The art department, under the advisorship of Mrs. Nell Fay and Mrs. Mary Carrier, has many brilliant achievements to look back upon. Eligibility in the Artizans Club is awarded to those who enroll in any art class, including art crafts and free art. Several members have had their work displayed in the foyer showcase and also at the annual P.T.A. open house. A number have competed in the Laguna Festival of Arts contest and the National Scholastic contest.

Work in the art department ranges from supplying decorations for various banquets to doing personal projects in arts and crafts. An art staff is appointed to work on the Ariel. As a reward for their hard work, the students take an annual trip to Bullock's, Los Angeles, where they view the various scholastic art award winners of our own and other schools.

The art teachers enjoy working in art craft.

Many useful and decorative objects are made by Sammies and Sallies who enroll in the art courses.

English

The English department, under the direction of Miss Levenia Scott, is composed of the sophomore, junior, and senior English classes, drama, speech, journalism, and creative writing classes.

Throughout the year the sophomore classes work on grammar, literature, spelling, and driver education, while the junior classes specialize in American and English literature and grammar, and the senior classes, in paragraph construction, vocabulary and grammar.

The drama class, in conjunction with the Little Theater Guild, presents several productions throughout the year, including the Mid-Year Play, the Senior Play, the Saint Show, the Christmas assembly, and the Talent Assembly and Program. All drama is directed by Miss Lesley Dasura.

Also under Miss Dasura's direction is the speech class. The students work on the particulars of correct speech and enter several students in the Lion's Club and American Legion speech contests.

The English instructors look on while Miss Levenia Scott outlines the program for the year.

Driver Education

Due to the great number of accidents involving teen-age drivers, Santa Ana High School became one of the first schools to make driver education a required subject. The six-week course is taught in the sophomore English classes. Here the students gain a thorough knowledge of driving problems, ranging from the history of the automobile to present day traffic laws. At the end of the course, the students are given a driving test issued by the Department of Motor Vehicles. If they pass the test, they are presented with cards which entitle them to obtain driver's licenses without retaking the written examination.

For those who wish to learn how to drive a car, Mr. Kenneth Cotter, a member of the faculty, gives lessons in the afternoons. These lessons are open to sophomores only.

Students learn to drive in a dual control car.

Stage Crew

Ariel

The Ariel has been compiled by four competent staffs who have attempted to show the correlation between the various types of activity carried on in Santa Ana High School, to give photographs of the entire personnel, and to show the many interesting pursuits which comprise a day at Santa Ana High.

The Literary Staff has presented the departments, giving summaries of their purpose and scope. The Art Staff has been concerned with the make-up of the book in general, including art work and design. The Business Staff has arranged for publication and sales to the student body. The Photography Staff has had the tremendous task of photographing the students in some aspect of every activity. Editor-in-chief Jimmy Lyons worked with all four staffs.

The Ariel, depicting in word and picture life at Santa Ana High School, will be especially treasured for its memories by all of those who have had a part in preparing it, as well as by those who appear in its pages.

Ariel Advisers are shown conferring over plans for this year's book.

The Generator

Under the direction of adviser Mr. Francis Tullius, the members of the journalism class have published the school newspaper, The Generator. The staff, headed by editors-in-chief, Joan Elmore the first semester and Bob Elsner the second, have done an exceptional job of covering all the athletic events, scholastic news, social activities, and other school happenings. These were accurately and interestingly reported to the student body in each edition of the paper, which is issued free of charge to all students.

Members of the Generator Staff have worked long and skillfully this past year in supplying news and information to the school. The job is no easy one, as it requires time, energy, and patience; but the task was successfully accomplished.

Mr. Willard E. Francis also deserves credit for his efforts in the important work of printing the publication.

Foreign Language

The foreign language department of Santa Ana High School is one of which to be proud. It is made up of the French, Latin, and Spanish classes, and their main objective is to familiarize students with the languages and customs of other lands.

The French Club has completed another successful term under the advisership of Miss Thelma Thomas. The organization has had many get-togethers which have given students wonderful experiences in the customs of the French people.

The Latin Club, led by Miss Harriet Perkins, also has accomplished a great deal towards the goal of stimulating an interest among the members in the lives of the Romans. The annual Emancipation Party, following the slave sale is but one example of the many activities carried out by this club.

The Spanish Club is one of the most active of all clubs in our school. Due to the unceasing efforts of Mrs. Ruth Rodriguez and Miss Anna Trythall, much is achieved. The Pan American Day proceedings and the annual Christmas party, featuring the breaking of the Pinata, are just two of the many affairs that the Spanish Club takes part in.

The Foreign Language teachers view the nativity scene arranged for the Christmas season.

Spanish Club officers view a poster for Pan American Day.

Music

One of the largest and most popular departments in Santa Ana Senior High School is the music department. The band, led by Mr. Gordon R. Wheatley, makes its first appearance from this department by playing at the football games. Many hours of practice lie behind each routine with which the spectators are entertained.

No less important is the orchestra. Led by Mr. Douglas Lamont, this group is always on the job to provide background music for performances, giving many sparkling interpretations of classical and popular numbers during the year.

The Esquires, Debutantes, and other choral groups fit into the school routine, as well as being very popular and well known all over Orange County. Always in great demand, they are under the splendid direction of Mr. Kenneth E. Orr, a newcomer to Santa Ana High. Other classes offered in the music department are harmony, piano, voice, organ, and music appreciation.

Mr. Palmer demonstrates some of the techniques of the organ to the other music instructors.

Mathematics

Although many people don't realize it, mathematics surrounds us all the time in different shapes and forms. It's not only a study of numbers, as some think, but it teaches the student how to reason things out. In addition to that, some mathematical background is needed for nearly every profession. The great variety of classes which Santa Ana High School offers helps the students to get the background they need.

The mathematics department, under the capable supervision of Mrs. Mary Tozier, has played a large part in making the program complete this year.

Other members of the faculty teaching mathematics include Mr. John Wilson, Mr. Glen Woolley, Mrs. Asenath Benneth, and Mr. Rollo Beck, who is new this year. The classes offered are applied mathematics, business arithmetic, algebra, advanced geometry, and trigonometry.

Instructors of the Math Department review one of the many text books used in the department.

Dear Betty—
They didn't leave me any room over on that page so—Jee—this year has gone by fast, it's really been wonderful though. I only wish you could have been with us this year, we really had fun, but you were the greatest even in your Jr. year, I believe me. I think you're a wonderful girl and a really great friend. I want to wish you the best of everything always. I really think you deserved. See you this summer and next year.
Your friend always,
Arlene

Advanced mathematics students apply knowledge that they have learned.

Science

Science has profoundly modified the lives of men. As one of the most important subjects, it must be studied by everyone who seeks to understand the complex world in which he lives. Every citizen is concerned with science, for it has affected every aspect of his life.

Fine training is being given those students with scientific and analytical minds. Many of them will go into colleges to study further in this highly organized field. Science has transformed the world, and only the study of the history of its development through the ages and its application in the modern world will enable man to adapt his living and his thinking to the scientific age.

Santa Ana High School has an excellent science department. The well trained teachers who direct our study in biology, botany, chemistry, and physics are doing more than their share to help us adapt our thinking and our living to the modern age of scientific marvels.

Science Department teachers confer over the display of equipment used by the students.

Home Economics

The home economics department trains girls in the art of taking care of the home. Since most girls will some day have homes of their own, this department and its teachings are of great importance. Not only foods and clothing are taught, but also such other subjects as home nursing, child care, home crafts, and home planning.

Miss Ruth Rowland is the head of the home economics department and is responsible for the planning of all department undertakings. A newcomer to the staff this year is Mrs. Nancy Horn, a former air hostess.

Practical experience in home care is afforded in the maintenance of a model apartment. In the spring a fashion show is held with the girls exhibiting their finished clothing work.

Through the Future Homemakers of America, girls interested in homemaking can get together and work on their common interest.

Miss Rowland and Mrs. Horn admire the table set by the girls of the Home Economics Department.

Weaving is one of the many interesting courses offered in the Home Economics Department.

Library Science

Under the expert supervision of Mrs. Una Ferguson, assisted by Mrs. Virginia Nedrow, library science is a course which is not only interesting and useful, but a way in which students can be of service to the school. Three girls are allowed to take library science each period. They learn by doing, and their duties include taking roll, checking out books, collecting fines on over-due books, binding magazines, setting up displays, and giving aid to students using the library.

These pupils play an important part in the Saint Story. One must admit that books are a necessity to any high school, and Santa Ana High can be proud of its well equipped library. It is enjoyed by all the students and is open to them before and after school, and during the lunch hour. They may also transfer to the library from their study hall classes for recreational reading and reference.

The librarians review some of the many books that are available in the library.

Library Science students assist in looking through the card catalogue.

Social Science

Every branch of our daily life and the life of those about us is touched by government, the force which seeks to protect our well-being.

We need to learn about the history of earlier times in order to understand the problems we face today, and, as Americans, we need to know the background of our great nation. A thorough knowledge of the workings of government will help to make us good citizens and wise voters.

The subjects offered to the students in the social science department are world history, United States history, and civics. Head of the department is Mr. Clyde Cook; those assisting him are Mr. Clyde Patton, Mr. Herb Covington, Mr. Walter Egger, and Miss Mildred Watson.

The History teachers are seen discussing the bulletin board display.

Industrial Arts

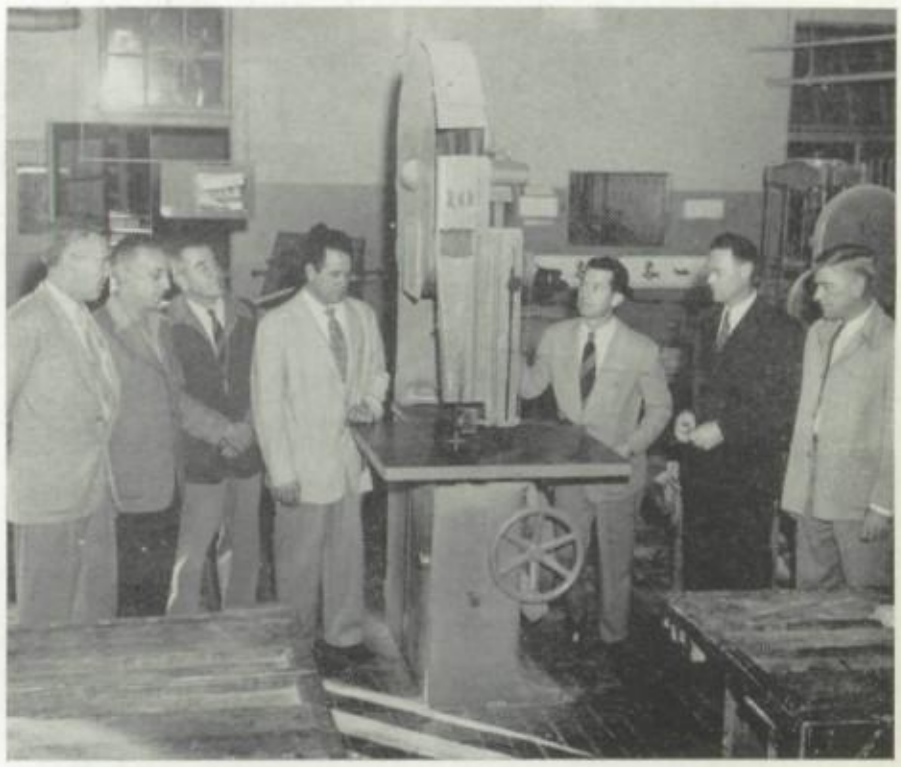
There has been a tendency in recent years to broaden the industrial arts field. Students are trained in the handling of tools, materials, and machinery in the making of objects that are both functional and decorative. The understanding and care of machinery is an important branch of this field.

Well equipped shops, a variety of materials, and expert guidance have combined to make this program gratifying and productive. In auto mechanics, boys are allowed to work on their own cars. During the past year, a car was donated for class use. In furniture making and metal fabrication, many usable and practical things have been constructed.

The classes in industrial arts lay the groundwork for those who will later earn livelihoods through these highly specialized skills.



Mr. White explains the use of the band saw to the other instructors of the Industrial Arts Department.

Wood Shop

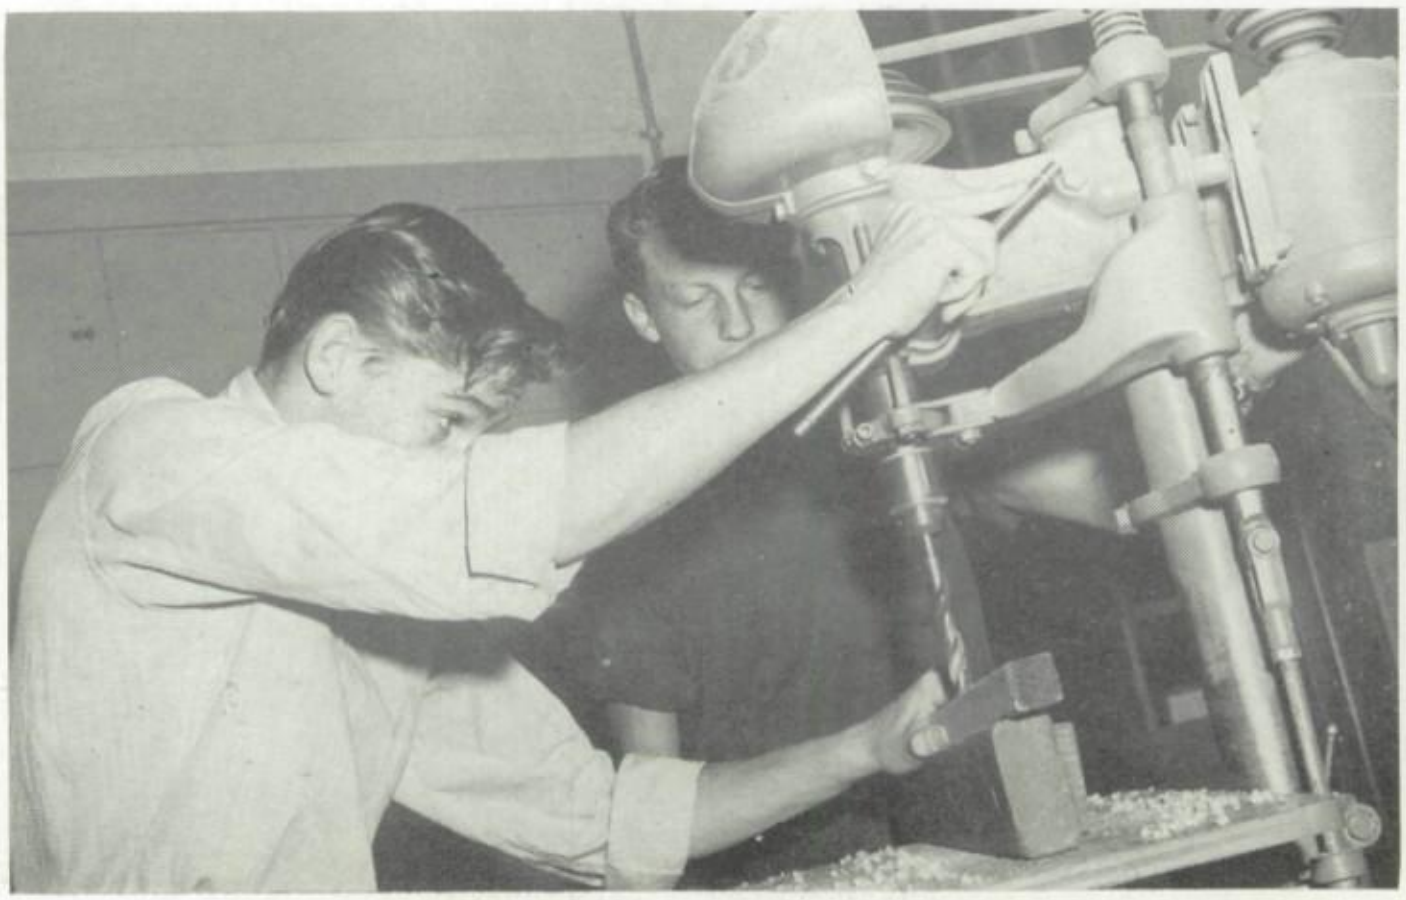
Students learn useful shop crafts, to prepare then for later vocations.



Machine shop students apply their knowledge of various tools.

Machine Shop

Drafting

Drafting is useful in many fields.

Business

The business department at Santa Ana High School, under the capable guidance of Mr. Milton V. Newcomer, trains students for positions in various offices. These jobs include secretarial work, bookkeeping, business law, and many other types of work in this field.

Members of the faculty working in the business department are Mrs. Asenath Bennett, who teaches merchandising and business arithmetic; Mr. Edward Black, who supervises office practice; Mr. William Elliott, typing instructor; Mr. Milton Newcomer, who has classes in bookkeeping and business law; and Mrs. Mabel O'Buch, who teaches typing and shorthand.

Business training plays a very important part in preparing students for occupations after graduation. It also provides a good background for those who are planning to attend colleges. The department deserves much credit for making Santa Ana High School's commercial curriculum successful this year.

Mr. Milton V. Newcomer demonstrates one of the many pieces of equipment used by the students enrolled in business courses.

Learning to run a mimeograph machine is interesting.

Girls' Athletics

Under the capable leadership of the Misses Alverda West, Zena Leck, and Sally Parker, the girls' athletic season of the past year has been a tremendous success. Beginning with basketball and hockey the first semester, the girls showed fine team spirit. The second semester ushered in volleyball and softball. Also popular and important are team tennis and swimming.

The sophomore girls take after-school sports in order to earn enough credit for eligibility in team sports in their junior and senior years.

At the end of each season, a playday is held at an Orange County school, where several schools gather to play one another and to get better acquainted.

To the G.A.A. Board, consisting of the association officers and various sports' managers, is due much credit for its splendid efforts to put forth an annual party and Spring Banquet. These affairs are held at the beginning and end of the school year, respectively, to introduce the new sophomores and to bid farewell to the outgoing officers and seniors.

Boys' Athletics

Coaching the sport that begins first in the school year, "Bill" Cole did an excellent job with the varsity football team. Later on in the year Cole also coached and produced a good Bee basketball team.

"Bus" McKnight, varsity basketball coach for his fifth straight year, produced another of the superior basketball teams which have made him famous. McKnight also assisted Cole with varsity football by serving as line coach.

Walter Egger, the tennis coach, developed a star team which lived up to the high standards set by the Santa Ana High School tennis teams of the past years.

Herb Covington, in his second year of coaching Saint sports, worked with the Bee football and Cee basketball teams.

Another coach who did a very good job is John Wilson. In swimming he developed a team which provided many breathtaking meets for the Santa Ana student body. Wilson also coached the Bee football team, which tied for the league championship this year.

Coach Reece H. Greene built up another superior track team this year. He also coached the cross country team which made a good showing in the fall.

Bill Foote, coaching the Cee football team, organized one of the high school's greatest "little" football teams.

Golf coach Thomas Trawick built up another fine team in this interesting sport.

Ending the year with baseball, Coach Rollo Beck, in his first year at Santa Ana High, built up a team which gave the Saint student body some thrilling and exciting games.

Lettermen's Club

The Lettermen's Club, under the leadership of President Eddie Fouch, has had another successful year of activity.

The principal responsibility of the club is the annual sponsorship of the sports banquets, at which letters and other sports awards are presented. The Football and Cross Country Banquet was held in the fall, while the Spring Sports Banquet included basketball, baseball, track, swimming, and tennis.

The club also sponsored a successful sale of rooters' caps at the beginning of the school year. Meetings during the year featured sports movies and talks by outstanding sports figures.

Regulations concerning the wearing and use of letters and lettermen's sweaters in Santa Ana High School are enacted by the Lettermen's Club. A new rule forbids the wearing of letters from other schools, although sweaters may be worn if the letters are removed.

Other officers of the organization this year were Harvey Bryan, vice-president; and Frank Negrete, secretary-treasurer. Coach "Bus" McKnight is the faculty advisor. All varsity lettermen are eligible for membership.

Although "Bill" Cole's Saints were not on top at the end of the football season with four wins and five defeats their playing was certainly a tribute to the spirit of both team and coach.

With only six returning lettermen, the odds were all against Santa Ana, and nobody was really surprised when the team was subdued in its first two games, by Santa Paula, 26-6, and Woodrow Wilson of Long Beach, 25-6. Small wonder then, that local "experts" were startled when the Saints, discovering an aerial attack, romped over favored Chaffey, 30-0. Flushed with victory, the team came from behind a two-touchdown lead to outplay Montebello, 20-18.

Despite predictions, the high-riding Saints won their first league match, barely eking out 21-13 over Orange's heavily favored Panthers. The school's optimism was punctured by the next game, in which fumbles were its downfall, with Newport winning her first league victory—the Oilers 17, Saints 2. The following week, the Saints won a victory over Huntington Beach, 32-0. This proved disastrous to our team, for three first stringers were put out of order in that wild melee. In weakened condition, Santa Ana was outplayed by Anaheim's Colonists to the humiliating tune of 36-0. For the season's final game, undefeated Fullerton was favored by 50 points; all Sammy had was hope. Under a steady drizzle, a tiny crowd watched one of the year's finest conflicts, as the ever-game Saints played their finest ball, to hold the Indians down to a much-closer-than-it-sounds 19-6.

The Bees came out on top this year, tying Anaheim for the Sunset League Bee Championship. The Bees won three and tied one on their five league games, scoring a total of 82 points in league play.

The Bees lost their season opener against Long Beach Wilson 13-6, and the next game ended in a 14-13 loss to Montebello. Neither of these were league games fortunately. In the league opener the Bees lost their only league game, a heartbreaker to Orange 6-0. The little Saints came back to the winning side of things to trounce Newport Harbor, 38-7. In the next game they conquered Huntington Beach with an 18-0 shutout.

The game with Anaheim was a close, hard-fought battle, and many thought the little Saints outplayed the Colonists. But at the final gun the score was 6-6. In their last game the Bees walked off with a 20-0 win over Fullerton.

The little Saints played a great season. Buddy Igou was high point man, with five touchdowns and two conversions. Bob Willeford made three touchdowns, and Jim Griffin scored two. Kenney Nelson, Tom Wetzel, and Bruce Wanger each scored one touchdown, and Ray Ceja made two conversions. Coaches John Wilson and John Covington gave letters to 28 Bees.

Despite being greatly handicapped by an exceptionally small turnout, Santa Ana's scrapping Cees, under the leadership of Coach Bill Foote, fought their way to a tie for second place in the Sunset League competition, with three wins, one tie, and one loss.

Before the season was officially under way, the Saintlets had looked good in their scrimmages with Tustin and Newport Beach, and the team was out to win the initial Orange game; and, with three touchdowns to the Panthers' one, they did win—13-6. Santa Ana seemed to be heading for another victory over Newport, until the Sailors, rallying in the final quarter, tied up the score, 6-6.

More practice—then Huntington Beach loomed ahead. Playing one of its toughest games, the team ran over the Oilers 18-6, despite their tenacity. Next week under a grueling sun, the victory-flushed Saintlets edged a narrow but sufficient 13-12 victory over a tough Anaheim eleven.

The Fullerton game was it, but the Cee's had it all against them, and Coach Foote's gridders lost their first game. The crucial contest started out evenly; 0-0, 7-0, 7-7, but by the half three first-stringers, including two backfield men, were injured. The weakened team struggled bravely, but to no avail. The final score was 25-7.

Terry Cole scored six touchdowns, due to the fine blocking of the line, the passing of Pete Norton, and his own ability.

Junior Varsity Football

The Jay Vees looked good this year, even though they lost four of their six games. Although a lot of the boys on the Varsity team are seniors and will graduate in June, there are some good prospects on the Jay Vee team. Among them are Darrel Cooney, Richard Crawford, Joe Duncan, Claude Fitts, Ivan France, Jack Hallick, Phil Martinez, Harrison Miller, Bob Rechtwig, Jarrett Terrell, Kenneth Upchurch, and Dennis Weber.

In addition to playing six outside games this year, the Jay Vees spent a lot of their time scrimmaging the Varsity. Some of the coaches have referred to the Jay Vees as "brains" because they have to remember and use so many different formations and plays during scrimmage. This is to give the Varsity practice on any of the varied formations an opposing team may use, and to help build up a defense against any type of play.

Although there is no junior varsity league, the Jay Vees played several games against other schools. The season started with a discouraging 8-6 loss to Long Beach Wilson. Next they played the Garden Grove Varsity squad for a 38-7 loss. This was followed by a close game with Anaheim, which ended 6-0 in the Colonists' favor.

The Jay Vees led Orange 13-14 at the end of the first half; but Orange came back in the second with a renewed pass attack, and the Jay Vees lost a heartbreaker, 39-20. Then, fed up with losing, the Jay Vees fought a hard game with Fullerton which ended in a 6-6 tie. The last game in the season was a triumphant one for the Jay Vees, ending in a 13-0 win over Huntington Beach.

In the basketball world at least, 1951 was a year of upsets. Saint varsity cagers fell from Sunset League first to third place on an upset battle, while at the last minute Co-captain Rex Babcock nosed out opposition to become League High Point Man, with 148 points.

Coach "Bus" McKnight's team won five out of ten pre-league games. Broken down, that meant Santa Ana over Tustin, Valencia, Garden Grove and Claremont, with losses to Huntington Beach, Colton, and Long Beach Wilson. At the Huntington Beach Invitational Tourney Sammy suffered a 38-30 defeat from Tustin, but set a scoring record by buffeting Garden Grove to the tune of 80-30.

The Saints, starting league matches, trounced the Orange Panthers 58-33, but suffered a reversal when Newport cagers scored in the final seconds of the game to win, 45-44. Sammy fared well after this, though, finishing the round in second place by defeating Huntington Beach, Anaheim, and Fullerton.

Having conquered Orange in the first game of the second round, Santa Ana climbed into the number one spot when it finally subdued Newport Sailors. But fate was against it! First we had a loss in the hands of "no-threat" Huntington Beach, and then from Anaheim, whom we had previously beaten. By the time Sammy topped Fullerton, (for the tenth consecutive time), 57-55 in the final game, it was too late—Santa Ana placed third.

Under the able direction of Coach John Wilson, 1951 proved to be a most gratifying year for the high school varsity swimming team, in which good form as well as speed was especially noticeable. The "mermen" this year entered in not only the regular Sunset League competitions, but in several other outside meets.

Returning lettermen from last year's Sunset League championship team, outstanding among whom were George Bartell, John Parke, and Russ Murphy, aided greatly in this year's fight against a much stiffer group of teams, according to Coach Wilson. Rating special mention was the sensational work of Tommy Corbin, who broke the school 100 yard breast stroke record during the season. Captaining for the varsity swimmers this year were Russ Murphy and John Parke.

Determination and training were apparent in the manner and results of the swimming of Mr. Wilson's Bees. Led on by exceptionally fast swimmers, the team brought new laurels to its alma mater by its performances, especially in the shorter sprints. Particularly notable were Carl Ekdahl, Jerry May, Dick Hayes, and Ray Ceja.

Nor may Cee splashers be forgotten. Small but mighty, these "swimming Sammys" turned out a record of which anyone might have been proud. Coach Wilson commented that their skill of the past season holds much promise for future varsity teams. Especially significant, according to the coach, was the work of Pete Norton, Jim Newton, Stanley Bond, Charles Frisk, and Bill Noren.

After being rained out for the first two games, the Saints played several out-of-town games. The first was a sorrowful loss to Chaffey, 10-4; but after training hard under their able coach, Rollo Beck, they bounced back to knock over Long Beach Wilson with an upset score of 3-2. A great many more pre-league games were played, during which time they participated in the Pomona Tournament.

Helping complete the strong Santa Ana baseball team this year were ten returning lettermen, who contributed a lot of good experience. This helped much in the tough Sunset League schedule, because all of the schools were out to beat the Saints, since they tied for the championship last year. The stiff competition gave the student body many exciting games to watch.

Congratulations are certainly due to Coach Beck for turning out our very fine baseball team, since it was his first year in this position and also his first year at Santa Ana High School.

Ably trained by Coach Walter Egger, Santa Ana High School's tennis team for 1950-51 finished another year of this sport, which has made the student body justly proud of its accomplishments. Coach Egger was assisted by captains Dave Osbourne and Ted Palmer. Sam Shorr aided as manager.

The net men began the season with some tough games outside of the league with such strong schools as Long Beach Poly, Long Beach Wilson, and Excelsior. In the league games they played Orange, Newport Beach, Huntington Beach, Anaheim, and Fullerton in that order and then repeated the schedule. This year they did not participate in the annual Pomona Invitational Meet.

Even though the tennis team does not have the large teams the student body is used to seeing for such sports as football and others played at Santa Ana High, it is rated in the five most strenuous sports played and is placed above football. Coach Egger should be highly praised for turning out such a fine team.

Bonadurer.

Talented tracksters were abundant when roll was taken on the Santa Ana High School cinderpath this season. Starting off with a good supply of top-notch material, Coach Reece H. Greene built up a team capable of piling up plenty of points. Sparked by the Varsity lettermen remaining from last year, Dick Bennett (hurdles), Fred Lozano (hurdles), Buddy Igou (pole vault), Al Fowler (broad jump and sprints), Ronald McKim (pole vault), Jack Porter (sprints), and Lawrence Morris (880 and mile) they presented a team to be reckoned with by the other members of the Sunset League. Some of the other outstanding boys were: Bob Burns (sprints), Larry Tarrant and Hector Ayala (distance), Steve Andrade and Dick Kuykendall (high jump), Frank Torres (shot put), and Ray Lancaster (pole vault). An especially good relay team was composed of Al Fowler, Glen Pierson, Lawrence Morris, and anchor man, Jack Porter.

Saints have been traditionally strong in track. The Saint tracksters have won the all Sunset League Final Championship Meet for five consecutive years, 1945-1949. In the Brea Relays, large school division, they are second only to Compton.

The team was again strong, and provided the student body with a series of fast-moving and exciting meets both here at Clayton Field and on the tracks of opposing schools.

Dear Betty;

As I sit here writing this full page novel I think of all the things we have done together this year. Remember Senior Ditch Day? That was really loads of fun, wasn't it? Just because we are seniors we got to spend the whole day at the beach! Remember the result? A burn! It was worth it though. I bet to top the day off we had that historical ride (?) back in Carol's car! Wow! That Back Bay and the old airport field really kept us laughing. I still wonder what Chuck McCaffery and Ronald McKim were doing there by themselves

Then there was that picnic at Irvine Park! Wow! Couldn't you just see me climbing the Alps? I guess I owe my life to you. If you hadn't been in back of me I doubt if I would have made it to the top. Just call me "Mountain Goat Ethel"!

In school we've stuck through thick and thin in Mrs. Cook's class. Remember how we used to call each other up and read our different compositions. Some of them were really out of this world, and that's just where they belong.

After thinking back on all this it really has been fun hasn't it.

I wish I could say I'll be seeing

Sophomores

This year's sophomores have rightfully claimed their titles as loyal Sammy and Sally Saints. During football season they proved their spirit by turning out for the games in full force, some playing on the team and others cheering them on. When club initiations began, the school found the sophomores out in front as good sports, doing all their masters demanded. Color Day also found the "Little Saints" taking part, with one winning the sweepstakes. Other activities entered by the "green horns" included the band, orchestra, choirs, after-school sports, and Ariel staffs.

Scholastically speaking, the class of '53 also did well, with many members gaining recognition on the Honor Society and Honor Roll.

Juniors

Is it possible that the timid greenhorns of one year ago have turned out to be the present Junior Class? They have not only shown excellent school spirit at all school functions, but they have also proved themselves to be an outstanding class by their high scholastic record and splendid showing of leadership.

The officers and class members, under the advisorship of Mr. Clyde Cook, have many well finished tasks to look back upon, exemplifying a successful year. The selection of class rings and the planning of the Junior-Senior Prom are but a fraction of the many responsibilities that they have carried out with diligence and success. In athletic competition, many members proved themselves to be outstanding, while other members revealed their talents by participating in the Little Theater Guild productions. Not to be forgotten are those who put forth efforts to strengthen the prestige of the class by taking part in various school musical organizaions.

With such achievements and a memorable record behind them, one can easily foresee an outstanding Senior Class of 1952.

First row: Phyllis Abernethy, Marion Allen, Don Allison, Elvira Altamirano, Steve Andrade, Beth Anderson.

Seniors

Through each successive year at Santa Ana High School, every Sammy and Sally Saint looks forward to his Senior Year. Now the class of '51 has come to the climax of the traditional story which each loyal Saint has placed in his book of memories.

The Saint Story is not one of those short stories that can be written or read in a few minutes. It is a continuing narrative, written by class after class as each becomes a page in this story.

As we look back, we recall how amazed we were as sophomores by the new atmosphere that surrounded us. As juniors, we began to know and understand what went on about us. We are now seniors, classified as responsible people.

Many important duties were placed on our shoulders for execution. These duties never would have been fulfilled without the leadership of the class officers, and we could have never attained the goals for which we were striving without the aid of our class adviser, Mr. Herb Covington.

Those serving as class officers the first semester were Jimmy Lyons, president; Marion Pruett, vice-president; Jolane Loughton, secretary. Second semester officers were Jack Porter, president; Richard Igou, vice-president; Jeanne Plavan, secretary.

Secretary — Jolane Loughton

Spring

Vice President — Richard Igou
Secretary — Jeanne Plavon

Well Betty- the end of our Senior year has arrived and I want to know what I'm doing on this page- Nonetheless I'll go on to say that it's really been fun going through all these years of school with you. Luck and Love Your pal, Ray Quigley.

Dear Betty:

Well another year has finally come to an end
Good Luck
But I sure hope to keep on seeing you as the years go by. Betty, it's really been wonderful having you as a friend these past three years. We've sure had the times haven't we? Especially up at Crosthwaite and the first time you met that big hunk of man??
Don. You know I'm really glad you went up there cause you met Don and finally settled down
You know I really think that he's a wonderful guy and your a wonderful girl. I really want to thank you for telling me about George. If we hadn't of broken up Probably wouldn't have Bill now. I certainly appreciate all you've done for me. I'm glad we got to go to the co-ed together last year. It certainly was fun wasn't it? Jeepers kid - I really don't know what to say to you. We sure had fun at the beach during the summers didn't we? It was fun at De Molay while we?? lasted. I sure want to wish you and D on all the luck in the world and hope that you have a long and happy life together. But please be good to the poor boy and don't do anything I wouldn't do. I know - that gives you a lot of room!
Well Petty Barker it looks as though I'm running of of room so I better close for now. Lots of Luck in your future years and remember Baccalaureate and Graduation.
Lots of love and stuff May 30

Saved Betty

Dear Betty

After ~~five~~ long fun filled school years together it sure is tough to think we won't be seeing each other in all the old familar places. I'll never forget sophomore study hall, and my most embarassing moment which turned out to be my greatest and best yet. My favorite memories are in assemblies with you and John and Ed. I remember in our soph year in assembly I shyly whispered to you not to speak to that boy next to you, John is one in a million. I am really happy that you have found someone to belong to, you and Don must have the very best ever and I want to meet this wonderful guy! Don't forget that.

When I am old and confined to my rocking chair, I'll open my trick and start remembering all the laughter, and love, yes disappointments too, that 1951 had for its graduating class. I know this won't be the end of the trail for us. I won't let it be, Friends like you are few and far between, I have a drivers license and you have a phone so, will hit the beach soon and give the boys a thrill in my purple bathing suit I'll never forget the cutest Majorette who listened as I wept in History, the the grandest gal who listened as I wailed my woes in assembly - we sure gave
